A Philosopher Looks at the OJ Verdict

by Dr. Leonard Peikoff

- Why is the OJ Simpson verdict an “eternal concrete”?
- How did the trial bring out a specific moral code in the legal system?
- Why is race such an important issue in the trial?
- What philosophic approach gave rise to the idea of race resentment?
- Where did race consciousness and collectivism come from?
- How did modern philosophy undermine the concept of reasonable doubt?
- What crucial distinction does the defense’s repeated use of “possible” eliminate?
